MEMORIAL READ AT BRUNSWICK REUNION

The twenty-second annual reunion of the Brunswick association was held at Brunswick Center, August 14, 1915. The following memorial was prepared and read by the historian of the association, Mrs. D. F. Tillotson, and will be read with interest by a great many persons who knew those referred to in the memorial when they were in life.

This year marks the centennial of the settlement of Brunswick. A hundred years ago a company of men and women left their home in the far East with ox teams and came here to carve out homes for themselves in the unbroken forest; unbroken save by the tread of wild beast and Indians. Not one of that sturdy, courageous company now remains to tell the story of the hardships they endured. Their descendants are reaping the benefits of their labors. The following have passed away since we met a year ago.

Ellen F. daughter of Oliver and Mary Bartlett, was born in Strongsville, O. She was first married to Orren Hayden and after his death to Captain Tower of Cleveland. She died Sept. 8, 1914, aged 71 years.

Roxana Perkins—Donnie, as she was familiarly called, was born May 4, 1842, in Brunswick. She was married Dec. 26, 1866, to David Shafer. They lived on a ranch in Montana and later moved to San Diego, Calif., where she died Sept. 22, 1914, aged 72 years.

Henry Roth died Sept. 27, 1914, at his home in Talmadge, O. He lived in youth and young manhood in Brunswick. He married Myra Lewis, who died several years previous to his death.

Esther Broadwell Warner died in Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 2, at the home of her daughter. Her girlhood was spent in Brunswick and after her marriage she lived in Brunswick for a number of years. Her husband was a soldier in the civil war and gave his life for his country. She will be remembered by many of the older residents in this locality.

Wm. Edgerton died at Clyde, N. D., Nov. 19, 1914, aged 75 years. Funeral at North Royalton, Nov. 24, conducted by Rev. C. H. Seales. Mr. Edgerton was a familiar figure in Brunswick many years ago.

Mrs. Margaret A. Stearns was born at Brunswick, Feb. 14, 1836, and departed this life Nov. 28, 1914, at the age of 78 years, 9 months and 14 days. She was a daughter of James and Eliza Stearns, who were among the pioneer settlers of Brunswick nearly a hundred years ago. She was united in marriage to Wm. B. Stebbins, Oct. 11, 1855, who died in December, 1902. Her last days were spent with her son, Seeley. She had been shut in for the last two years on account of declining health and age. She had been a member of the Methodist church 55 years and remained steadfast to the faith thru which she first found her Lord a half-century before, and in which she lived to the end. She leaves her son and his wife and three grandchildren as immediate relatives, with many others to cherish her memory.

Oliver Sherman Fenn, wife of M. K. Fenn, died at her home, 1555 Dexter place, Cleveland, Dec. 5, 1914. She was a daughter of Moses Sherman and her girlhood days were spent at the old home in Brunswick with her father and mother and brothers and sisters.

Wm. Sanford Pitkin, son of Richard Sanford and Delight C. Pitkin, was born in Livonia, Livingston county, N. Y., Dec. 8, 1839, and at the age of two years came with his parents to Brunswick, where he lived until 1895, when he went to La Porte, Lorain county, living there until his death, which occurred Jan. 3, 1915. Mr. Pitkin was first married to Rachel A. Berdan at Brunswick and with whom he lived until her death, which occurred March 30, 1894. He was married to Miss Caroline A. Welton, June 14, 1895. Mr. Pitkin was a member of the M. E. church at Brunswick, and a faithful Christian worker. His membership was transferred to the La Porte M. E. church and he lived and died in the Christian faith. Those left to mourn his departure are his widow and three children, an adopted son, one sister, Mrs. Mary C. Chapman, of La Porte, two brothers, Martin V. B. Pitkin of Paw Paw, Mich., and Geo. E. Pitkin of Brunswick. The funeral was held at the late home of the deceased and burial was at Brunswick. A large concourse of relatives and friends and many of his old neighbors of long ago followed him to his last resting place.

Carlos Forbes died at his home, 3736 W. 86th street, Cleveland, Jan. 6, 1915, aged 77 years and 10 months. He had been in failing health for several years. He married Mary J. Pond, who survives him. He lived in Brunswick at his grandfather Lane's for a time, about the year 1855. Burial at North Royalton.

Mrs. Barbara Euga Jennings was born the 22 of March, 1831, at Liverpool, O., and died Jan. 9, 1915, in Berea, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Caroline Bradley, aged 84 years. The funeral services were conducted by Dr. C. W. Hertzler. Singing was furnished by the B. N. quartet. Burial at Berea, O.

Christina W. Buntel was born in York township, Medina county, O., July 11, 1844. She was married to Frederick Steek, June 6, 1870. To this union was born one son, Carl F. Steek. Her husband died Oct. 29, 1879. She was united in marriage to J. F. Gackler, August 16, 1897. They made their home on the farm until 1905, when they moved to Brunswick Center, where they lived until death called her January 19, 1915, at the age of 70 years, 8 months and 8 days. She had

worth May Try Government Form

At a recent meeting of the Wadsworth Chamber of Commerce, that body, acting upon a project intimated by the recommendation of Mayor Boyer to the village council, decided to co-operate with officials in investigating the city manager form of government. A committee was appointed to ascertain all facts relating to the practicability in places where such an administration prevails.

It is only recently that villages have been allowed to use this kind of government, as its use has heretofore been confined to cities. In this plan the town's affairs are carried on under a charter, drawn up and approved by the citizens, a council is elected, and a business manager is hired by the council to administer all village affairs.

CHANCE TO GO TO FRISCO

The county commissioners have been authorized to appoint five delegates to the International Irrigation congress which will meet at San Francisco Sept. 13-20.

They desire to name persons who will attend and for that reason request that any one who will be able to attend and can do so to send in their names, and they will be appointed.

Some New Books at Sylvester Library

The Franklin Sylvester Library has recently purchased a few new books, some to fill out the list of standard authors, such as Trollope, Cable, Page, Browning poems, Gailand, half a dozen new copies of the Little Colonel's Stories, "Polyanna," and "Polyanna Grown Up," "Finding His Stride," "The Boy Farmer of the Younger Class; author, "Encounter" by Sedgewick, "Open Market of Bacon," "Far Country," by Churchill, "Turmoil," by Tarkington. A fine book on the "Making of Canada," "Bramble Bees and Others," also a very timely and well written book called "South of Panama." Mrs. George High has also given a large list of boys books all in fine shape.

WADS, GET LIBRARY?

A communication will be forwarded this week to John D. Rockefeller in regard to the erection of a suitable library building in Wadsworth as a memorial to his deceased wife, who was formerly a resident here. Mrs. Rockefeller, who was Miss Laura Spelman before she married the oil magnate in 1864, always expressed a kindly feeling toward her Wadsworth friends, and sincerely regretted her inability to be present at the home-coming celebration in 1914, on account of ill-health. Wadsworth is greatly in need of a public library and would sincerely appreciate any testimonial from the great financier.

been in failing health for about three years. She was a true mother to her husband's children as well as to her own son. A loving wife, a good neighbor and a friend to all. She leaves a sorrowing husband, children and grand children and a large circle of friends and relatives to mourn her departure. Mrs. Geckler was an enthusiastic worker in the Grange and in the Cemetery association, and gave up her work only when compelled to do so by ill health. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. O. M. Peoples. Burial at Brunswick.

Blanche V. Babcock was the daughter of Simon B. and Marie C. Babcock. She was born at Coldwater, Mich., July 17, 1864, and died at Cleveland, Jan. 23, 1915, aged 51 years. When about four years of age she came with her parents to Brunswick, which place was her home until about ten years ago, when she went to Cleveland and since has made her home in that city. May 1, 1887, she was united in marriage to James G. Stearns, who died March 30, 1890. To this union was born one son, James Ashley, who is left to mourn the departure of a most kind and loving mother. She also leaves one brother, and a large circle of relatives and friends, to mourn her loss. She united with the Methodist church at Brunswick in 1885, when Rev. J. L. Sanford was pastor, and was active in the work of the church and Sunday school and always remained true to the faith and cherished the Christian's hope of the future life. The funeral was held at her old home in Brunswick, Jan. 26, the services being conducted by Rev. R. C. Beechley of Cleveland. Burial was in Brunswick cemetery.

Beecher C. Bell died at his home in Brecksville, O., Jan. 28, 1915, aged 70 years. Funeral was conducted by the Rev. Rothrock; burial at Brecksville.

Philo S. Drake passed away at the home of George Drake, at Durand, Mich., Feb. 2, 1915, aged about 80 years. He was born near Abbeyville, June 24, 1833, and had always lived near there and at Hamilton's Corners, and at Brunswick. Last November he, with Cora, his adopted daughter, went to Durand, Mich., to visit. He died after a few weeks illness, and was brought back to Hamilton's Corners and was buried beside his sister Eunice, who died a year ago. He was very lonely because of the absence of his sister. Mr. Drake was a well-read man, and was interested in all things that pertain to the uplifting of his fellow man. He was a warm advocate of the temperance cause. He and his sister had been interested in twelve orphan children, many of whom they had in their home at various times, training them to walk in the right way.

Boys Chosen for Free Trip to Fair

There was only a small attendance at the meeting Saturday at the court house for the purpose of electing two boys for a free trip to the Ohio State fair, offered by the State Board of Agriculture, but two Medina county boys were made happy just the same. They are Ernest Gault of Lafayette and Chas. Koble of Westfield. Edward Valik of Liverpool and Hubert Reed of Granger were chosen as alternates.

Medina people will remember with pleasant thoughts Walter E. Hall and the Trinity choir boys of Cleveland, who gave us such a splendid program in the early spring, but will regret to hear that Mr. Hall is suffering from a complete nervous breakdown and is at present at a sanatorium and summer resort, having had to give up his position as organist and director at the Trinity cathedral. Mr. F. Bohley and Mr. John Beck, while in Cleveland Saturday, were delightedly entertained by the assistant organist at the cathedral, at which time Mr. Beck was afforded the pleasure of trying the big cathedral organ.

On Tuesday evening Miss Helen Clark, reader, Fred Bohley, baritone, and John Beck, pianist, gave a program in connection with a banquet given by A. D. Aylard to some of his friends in Brunswick.

The Methodist choir enjoyed a treat of ice cream and cake from their director, after rehearsal last Friday evening.

SCHOOL NOTES

By recent action of the Medina county Board of Education and the Summit County Board of Education, a tract of land in Norton township which has up to the present formed a part of the Wadsworth township school district was transferred to the Norton township school district. The fact that the schools in former joint-sub districts No. 10 and 5 are to be closed this year and the children sent to other districts in Wadsworth township, made it necessary to abolish these joint districts and set the territory back where it originally belonged. Property to the value of about $80,000 was involved in the transfer but only about ten children are affected.

The Medina County School board, after consulting both York and Lafayette boards of education, decided to make the town line between those two townships the dividing line between the two school districts. The schools at sub-district No. 2, York township, and at sub-district No. 9, York township, last year had a daily attendance under the legal limit and therefore had to be closed this year. Hence it seemed best to let each township attend to its own pupils.

Notices of Medina County teachers' institute are being sent out by the secretary, Miss Mattie Lutz of Seville. This year's session will last but two days, Sept. 2 and 3, at Medina. Three adjourned sessions will be held on Saturdays through the year. Dr. J. H. Couraault of University of Missouri and C. A. Barnett, supervisor of penmanship of Cleveland, will be the speakers Sept. 2 and 3.

W. C. Rohde, formerly of Brunswick and M. E. Hawk, late of the Central high school of Akron are now full fledged residents of Medina county as each has at last succeeded in finding a home in Medina. Mr. Rohde has charge of the West district and Mr. Hawk of the East district. Both are hard at work preparing outlines for the teachers for the coming year. They are hustlers and each has had excellent experience to prepare them for their new work.

Boy Scouts are Having Big Time

The following scouts are in camp near Fenn's Corners: Carl Anderson, Harold Baque, Leo Bartunek, Louis Joseph and Landon Bartholomew, Russell Gooden, Geo. Pritchard, Erasmus Simmons, Willis Sackett, Harold Thatcher, James Thompson, Carlyle Beedle. Six more are coming out this week: Myron Curtiss, Sidney Lance, Earl Stoupe, Robert Tubbs, Harold Waite and Paul Jones. Rex Van and John Tuttle are visitors at camp. Scout master Olds and Assistant Warner are in charge of the camp.

From all reports of boys coming in to town, everyone is having a fine time. The rains did not greatly disturb anyone, for there is plenty of shelter; one log cabin and three tents. For the use of the log cabin the boys are indebted to the Warner-Kennedy Co., and wish to extend a note of thanks to them and to other generous citizens of Medina who have so kindly given material and support to make the camp a success. The boys had a fine first-aid kit given them that insures prompt attention to all cuts and bruises; in it are all necessary bandages, antiseptics and liniments. The boys expect to take the second class examination Friday. Instruction in trailing, signaling and first aid are given daily by Scoutmaster Olds and assistant Warner in preparation for this.

Another invitation is extended to all to come out to camp and parents of boys are especially urged to pay the camp a visit.

The boys wish to thank Scoutmaster Olds for his increasing attention to their health and amusement and his instructions in scouting.

Bird B. Lands Second Money

Bird B. Brooks up, was defeated, for the second time in as many starts, at Randall Tuesday. Billy Brino was the horse that turned the trick, winning the 2:20 pace, stake $1,000, in straight heats, Bird B., trailing second.

Brino lowered the record for the North Randall half mile track to 2:07 1/4 last week, racing against Bird B., but Tuesday a mile in 2:10 1/4 was the fastest needed to win.

Time—2:10 1/4, 2:12 1/4, 2:12 1/4.

THE CLEMENT REUNION

The 24th annual reunion of the Clement family was held Aug. 18 at the home of A. C. Bedford. A beautiful day and a large crowd made it one of the most interesting meetings ever held. An orchestra of four pieces, consisting of violin, clarinet, cornet and organ, was enjoyed by all. Officers for the coming year are: Pres., C. G. Howe; 1st vice pres., A. R. Clement; 2nd vice, W. A. Clement; rec. sec., Mrs. Emily Hale; cor. sec., Mrs. Julia Clement; treas., L. E. Bedford; chaplain, T. R. Clement; historian, Robert Clement; ex. com., Geo. Bedford, Louis Clement, J. E. Clement; com. on sports Leland Drake, Mrs. Myron Bedford, Mrs. Herbert Bedford. One hundred and fifty answered the roll call and then all fell to with a hearty appetite for the bountiful dinner spread for them. Then visiting, singing, a ball game, ice cream and cake finished the day. Those from a distance were, Mrs. Selma Clark, Edward Clark, Louis Clark and wife from Elsie, Mich.; Ernest Clark and family from Pa.; W. W. Farrar and family from Oberlin, Glenn Randall, wife and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bott and children and Mrs. Clem Farrar from Cleveland; Chas. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. R. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. E. Clement and daughter from Medina; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clement and Mrs. Nellie Blair from Berea. The day passed quickly and all went home agreeing to meet with Geo. Bedford in 1916.

POSTAL CHANGES

Commencing next Wednesday, Sept. 1, a change in regard to the insuring of parcel post packages will be made. The local postoffice received instructions to that effect from Washington Monday.

After that date, fourth class mail can not be registered, but may be insured against loss in an amount equivalent to its actual value, not to exceed $5 in any one case on the payment of a fee of three cents; not to exceed $25 on a fee of five cents; not to exceed $50 on a payment of 10 cents, or not to exceed $100 on a fee of 25 cents. This will be in addition to postage and both will be prepaid by stamps affixed. Indemnity will not be allowed in cases of loss of such mail addressed to Philippine Islands unless the loss occurred in the postal service of the United States.

Formerly only goods to the value of $50 could be insured.

POLLY NETTLETON DEAD

Mrs. Polly Nettleton, who resided about three miles east of the village for more than sixty years, died at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning from nephritis, in connection with a valvular disease of the heart. She was born in New York state, Feb. 14, 1825, and was 90 years, 6 months and 10 days old at the time of her death. She is survived by a foster daughter, Lida Barnett, also of Medina township. Funeral services were held at the home Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and burial made in the cemetery at Medina Center.

Says Property Was Listed Wrongfully

A case peculiar in some ways was recorded with the clerk of courts this week by Attorney Arthur Van Epp for his client, C. L. Sonnanstine of Wadsworth, in which plaintiff asks the court to issue an injunction restraining County Treasurer R. J. Hyde from selling plaintiff's property for the collection of alleged delinquent taxes.

Plaintiff states that in 1910, N. H. Yoder, was a duly elected assessor for Wadsworth village, and that in May of the same year plaintiff made full return to Yoder of his property subject to taxation, which amounted to $335. That thereafter, at a time unknown to plaintiff, Yoder wrongfully and without right or authority added to the return an additional sum of $7,500, making in all $7,835. The return was duly filed with the auditor and the additional tax levied of $288.68. Upon plaintiff's persistent refusal to pay the additional tax, penalties have been added, bringing the entire amount now claimed to be due to $317.55.

Unless restrained, the treasurer has no alternative but to seize and sell plaintiff's property to satisfy the amount of the taxes said to be due. On Tuesday Judge McClure issued an injunction against Treasurer Hyde.

Change in Election Laws

In the nomination for candidates for public office the law is changed again this year. It is possible for any one to circulate petitions and insert names of candidates without the candidates knowing it and these names will appear on the ballots. Should candidates withdraw, however, a committee named on the original nomination papers will fill vacancies. This committee organizes by electing a chairman and secretary.

Assessors—Section 17 of the act changing the taxation laws, contains the following: "In villages, one assessor or shall be elected; in townships not having a municipal corporation therein, one assessor shall be elected; in townships composed in part of a municipal corporation, one assessor shall be elected in the territory outside of such municipality."

"Nominations of candidates for any elective office in any township, or in any municipality which at the last preceding federal census had a population of less than 2000 may be made by petitions, signed in the aggregate for each candidate by not less than 25 qualified electors of such township of village."

Blank petitions may be obtained of the clerk of the election board and should be returned for file by September 1.

SWAGART ABLE TO LEAVE HOSPITAL

The report which was given currency last week from certain sources that the condition of Geo. Swagart, in the Akron hospital from wounds inflicted by Clay Halderman while the former was in the act of robbing the Halderman store in Sharon, July 18, had taken a sudden change and would probably prove fatal, appears to have had no foundation in fact. At least according to information received by Prosecuting Attorney Underwood from the hospital authorities Monday by phone and on Tuesday morning by letter.

On the contrary, Swagart's condition has been gradually improving and, had it not been for instructions from the attending physician before the latter left for a vacation not to discharge Swagart until his return, the latter would have been dismissed Sunday. The attending nurse stated that he is able to leave the hospital. However, Swagart will not be discharged until Attorney Underwood has been given an opportunity to order his arrest.

It is reported that the Haldermans will take no action in prosecuting Swagart and that Sharon people generally are of the opinion that the young man has been sufficiently punished. As it was the postoffice building that Swagart burglarized, the federal authorities were notified, but thus far have taken no steps to have him brought to trial.

It is believed that Swagart will be formally arrested as he leaves the hospital and advised to confess, when it is thought probable he will be given a light sentence and possibly paroled, in view of his previous clean record.

Weymouth Holds to Ancient Custom

To "set up" cigars when one takes unto himself a wife is no less a time-honored custom in Weymouth than in most other places. But if Weymouth people differ from other people at all with this respect, it is because the former are ready to exact the cigars by severe moral pressure from any Benedict who attempts to side-step the ancient custom.

A case in point presented itself on Monday night, when about 30 men, women and children repaired to the home of Gilbert Ober-ton and calmly reminded him of his duty to them for having remarried Monday morning, only six weeks and five days after the death of his former wife, which occurred Wednesday night, July 7, and of which there was an extended notice in this newspaper at the time.

The party Monday night partook of the well-known "chari-vari" variety and the horse-fiddle and bumbazine were ready for use. One player brought along a swinet, but one of its pistons was bent and it became useless. At first, Gilbert was defiant and sputtered a blank refusal to do the honors. Then a gentle pressure was brought to bear by one of the visitors, coupled with an ominous gleam from his eye. Gilbert weakened and agreed to pay for a box of cigars the next morning, authorizing its purchase then and there. But as cigars were of no use to the women and children of the party, Gilbert again responded to friendly advice and loosened up to the extent of two wits.

Armed with Gilbert's quarter promise of cigars, one of the party serenaded him with a bumbazine solo, whereupon there was a mad rush for the cigar counter of E. J. Tiernan at the center.

When Gilbert failed to show up at the store Tuesday morning, Tiernan called him up and was informed that there would be nothing doing in the money line, but that in a legal way there soon would be plenty doing for those who extracted his quarter and promise the night before.

The party was peeved that Ober-ton should have been casting for a wife so soon after the death of his former wife, and thus were in no mood to be trifled with as they were Monday night. Now, according to one who took part in the proceedings Monday night, Gilbert is booked for another visitation in the very near future, which we are informed, will be conducted in an entirely different manner.

WAS BORN IN MEDINA

Did you ever hear of the Zizelman family, who lived here in the early '40's?

Cleveland papers of Monday announced the death of Wm. F. Zizelman, which occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lida Klausmeyer, 1671 E. 117th street, Cleveland, on Sunday. It was also stated that the deceased was born in Medina in 1838 and removed with his parents to Cleveland in 1845.

We have been unable to locate any of the older residents hereabouts who can recall the Zizelman family, although it is possible there still lives someone in the village or vicinity who many have known the deceased or is related.

For many years he was engaged in the grocery and shipchandlery business on Superior avenue, N. W. later entering the cigar business in which he was engaged until the time of his retirement a few years ago.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Klausmeyer, and three sons, Frank Zizelman, license clerk in the Cleveland probate court; George A. Zizelman, salesmanager of the Cleveland-Akron Bag Co., and Paul A. Zizelman, attorney in New York. Mr. Zizelman suffered a stroke of paralysis Thursday.
